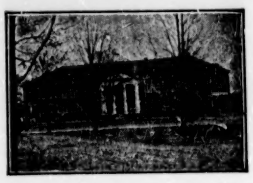
Lottie Walker

2nd FLOOR



Lottie Walker Second Floor, Nov. 19—Well folks here we come again. It doesn't seem like a month since we wrote our last letter. We don't know much to tell you, but we are always ready to let you know what is going on here.

The pears are just about gone and we sure are missing them since they are so scarce.

Did you have a good time Halloween?? We did. The Senior Christian Endeavor had a party and some of our girls went to it.

We are looking forward to Home Coming Day next Saturday Nov 21. when we expect a lot of our old students to come home and see the game of football between Belmont Abbey and our varsity team. Our boys have been doing some good playing this year and our field is mighty fine. We are trying not to let any other team score on our field this year.

Well we wrote our Santa Claus letters last week and are still thrilled over it. The first thing we know Christmas will be here. Then midterm exams which means somebody needs to do some hard work about that time.

We had some fine speakers with us during the week of prayer for Home Missions and would be glad to have each one come back and talk to us again

Mrs. Hill has been giving prizes for the best kept rooms each month and three rooms tied last month and what do you suppose she did? Put a cocoanut cake on the table in the guest room and sent the girls in there to see what they could do with it. Laurinburg, McLaurin and Statesville were the lucky rooms and they had a pretty good time while it lasted. Some ladies came from Gastonia today to make us a visit and seemed to be pleased with our place.

A lot of us girls are making boudoir pillows, trying to get ready for Christmas—so if you have any cotton scraps that you do not need this is the place to send them, and we promise to make good use of them. Look in that scrap bag before you forget it. Bet you have a lot of them waiting for some one to use.

Annie Louise

ANNIE LOUISE, Nov. 18—You haven't heard from us in a long time.

Everybody is looking forward to Thanksgiving.

We are enjoying playing in the leaves and making play-houses.

All of our pears are gone now, but we will soon have peanuts.

The other day we were cleaning up and we put Amonia in our water. Thelma Robards went to wash her rag out. Daisy Cayton said, "Thelma, Miss Miller has already put that pneumonia in there."

Last Sunday Miss Lea and Miss McKenzie took us to the County Home and we sang for the sick people.

We had the birthday dinner today and none of our girls went, but Miss Miller, who went said they had a good dinner.

Linda's aunt came to see her at the ball game last week.

Next Saturday is Home-Coming Day and we will be glad to see all old boys and girls.

On November 13th, Barium played Mount Airy High School at Barium. This was a big, fine looking team, with beautiful uniforms. They were much heavier than Barium, but were handicapped from having played a game the day before with Reidsville.

Barium was somewhat handicapped in trying to play the game without showing too much to the Belmont Abbey scouts who were here early and numerous. Pittman and Sears started the game, but were substituted for after the second play. In the first play, Sears made fifteen yards; the second play Pittman made ten; and then they took a rest. Hannon performed beautifully for Barium, carrying the ball over for two touchdowns during the game. Lester King completed both points after. The first one by a drop kick, the second one by a line buck. Cumbie played in the backfield. Joe Johnston did the kicking. Altogether, it was an interesting game, and after the Belmont Abbey folks left, with six minutes still to play, the coach sent in Sears and Pittman, and the team settled down to its knitting. Sears ran over for one touchdown, and immediately after, Pittman made a long, beautiful pass to Cumbie, that placed the ball on the ten-yard line The final whistle, however, stopped this touchdown being made good

BELMONT ABBEY BARIUM GAME SCORELESS TIE

The next game of the varsity was the big final Belmont Abbey game. This was the last game on Barium's schedule. It was Home-Coming Day, and about two hundred old-timers were here. There were two thousand people, altogether to see that game. There were cars from Greensboro, High Point, Lexington, Winston-Salem, Charlotte, Hickory, Morganton, and lots of other places that we haven't time to mention. The weather was perfect, and the game was fine. Belmont Abbey outplayed Barium in the first half, and came so near scoring that they say the Loud Speaking apparatus burnt out from what the Announcer was thinking. Anyway, it went entirely on the bum, and the last half was not announced. Nobody cared because they did not have time to listen to anything for watching the game. Barium clearly outplayed Belmont Abbey in the second half. They would carry the ball down to the goal, hold for downs, and Belmont would kick. They would bring it up again a little bit faster, but the same thing would happen again; the final time when it looked like it was going to be a score, the team was just too late, and the final score was another tie—0 to 0.

TORNADO CLASHES WITH HIGH POINT BEARS

After all that was over, the boys took a few days rest, and then went over on Wednesday, the day before Thanksgiving, and played a benefit game at High Point. This was with the High Point High School, a team that has not had such a good record this year. They have been beaten by Greensboro and Charlotte, but showed wonderful power against Winston-Salem, and defeated Gastonia. Barium's record was a little bit better than High Point's, but the day this game took place, High Point was having one of her good days, and the game ended in a scoreless tie. Both teams had opportunities to score, but the other team's defensive work was a little too good in the pinches. This ends the varsity season for 1931. With three ties, eight victories and no defeats.

In Midget football, the 100-pound team has at last struck its stride. On the 7th of November, Barium played Newton at Newton, defeating them 43-0. On a return game at Barium, the next week, Barium defeated Newton 34-0. The two North Wilkesboro games resulted as follows: At Barium, Barium 20 North Wilkesboro 0. The return game at North Wilkesboro was 13-0. In this latter game, Ed Flowers distinguished himself. The two teams played on an even basis all during the first half, but in the second half, Ed Flowers got loose after receiving a punt, and ran for a touchdown.

In the 115 and 125-pound class Barium played a return game with Mount Airy at Mount Airy on November 14th. This was more in the nature of a holding contest than a game It did not determine anything although the final score was 0-0. Barium had previously defeated the same team at Barium, 32-0. But apparently, all rules were off when we played in Mount Airy.

The next game was with Belmont at Belmont, on Thursday, November 19th, and here this team was handed its first defeat of the season. Belmont ran the second kick-off for a touchdown, and the final score was Belmont 7, Barium 0

This was a splendid game, altho' the day was very hot, and the field very dusty. Belmont clearly earned its victory, and Barium just must take what consolation they can get out of the previous defeat of this same team by 19-7.

By the way, this Belmont team is the only midget team in this weight that has scored on Barium at Barium, and that was in their first game when they ran up a touchdown.

Finally the big midgets went to Charlotte Saturday morning, Nov 27th and played a double header winning both by the score of 6-0. One with our old friends the Charlotte Cubs; the other with a new team, Thompson Orphanage. The latter team gave us a victory and dinner too.—This ended the season.

HOME-COMING DAY

Just lots of interesting things happened Home-Coming day. We want to have a write-up with the names of all attending in the next issue. Not room enough to do the job right this time.

Farm - Campus

FARM, Nov. 28—Not much news for this month, friends, but I will try to let you know what is happening on the place. They were not

The vasity has already played its last game this year. They were not defeated a single time, although we came out of three games 0-0.

We will be losing a few of our varsity foot-ball men this year but we have lot's more big husky gentlemen to take their places and show good football characters.

We have had all of our wheat, oats etc. planted a few weeks now and it is already out of the ground. We planted a lot down at Joe Clark's and we are expecting a big crop when reaping time comes.

We also have a large field planted in wheat down at Troutman on Mr. Cavin's land.

We received a carload of corn from Of course we are not progressing very fast in getting up a ton of shucks, but it is saving money.

Pulling stumps is our occupation nowadays. No one has been hurt thus far and the stumps are scattered all over the new-ground. We will have wheat in all this next year. Clearing out more new ground comes later in the winter.

Pecans are ripe now and Mr. Thomas, along with the truck farmers, are kept busy gathering them. We are epecting to get a lot of pecans about Christmas.

We have already written our Chrismas letters and mailed them. I know that every one will have a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

the McDonald farm a few days ago. Every time it rains we have to sit down and shuck corn. We also shell and grind a lot of it. Instead of wasting our shucks this year as we have been ding in the past, bedding up at the dairy barn, we are baling them up and selling them for $80 a ton.

Lees

LEES COTTAGE, Nov. 20—Well, well, time for the news for the Messenger again.

We did not write news in the Messenger last month, for two reasons, we were too late and our editor had all the space taken up.

We hardly know where to begin. Since our last report, two of our Lees cottage boys were hurt, one the youngest in the cottage, fell and fractured his collar-bone, but he is just about as kood as new now. Another one got his jaw-bone broken playing football over at Newton. He is doing nicely, only he can't talk much nor eat much. The doctor said he would be able to eat Christmas dinner.

Speaking of football, Oboy! we have had a great season. We are certainly proud of our good teams and their good work this year. We are almost weeping because the season will end so soon, but the last is always the best so we are looking forward to the last game here, Nov 21, and let me tell you we hope our varsity team does its stuff for we are going to play Belmont Abbey College, and its Home-Coming Day!

Following football is basket ball season which is lots of fun too.

We have two news boys at Lees now, from Wilmington. We like to hear them talk about the ocean.

O, Boy! December means Christmas! We are looking forward to it, of course, but imagine old Santa Claus has had a hard year and he may just almost forget us, but we hope not.

News is flying away from us, so we had better say good-bye until "next year".

Merry Christmas to all our loving friends.

The Chemical Kiss

Well, you're wrong. When you kiss your girl you don't kiss her at all. You perform an experiment, involving thirteen chemicals, besides rouge and lipstick. The Scientific American announced this discovery, and obligingly added a list of the chemicals.

In case you are interested, here is what is said:—"The skin on the face of a pretty girl contains water, 61 grams; albumin and globulin, 07; mucoid, 0.16; elastin, 0.34; collagen, 33.2; phosphates, 0.032; fats, 0.761; common salts, .45; potassium chloride, 0.04; lime, 0.01; also minute quantities of magnesium oxide, iron oxide, aluminum oxide, and sulphur."

MAKE YOUR OWN LABORATORY TEST. IF YOU DON'T BELIEVE IT.—Scientific American.

Baby Cottage

BABY COTTAGE, Nov. 26—This is station B. C. broadcasting from Barium Springs, North Carolina.

Mabel Billings was glad to have her father come see her a few days ago.

We thank all our friends for the jellies, cakes and quilts they sent us.

Some ladies from Goldsboro brought some little balls and we have surely enjoyed them.

The Mt. Airy game was good and we enjoyed it very much.

Bobby has been staying at the Infirmary for a few days and we sure have missed him.

Mama Girt had a visit from her son, John K., and her brother-in-law Mr. Richard Breece. We enjoyed the visit.

Home-Coming Day was Saturday and we were glad to see many of the old boys and girls back. We had a big football game that day with Belmont Abbey. It ended 0 to 0. Iris Spencer had a visit from her mother that day.

Miss Carson and Mama Girt with eight babies went to Winston-Salem First Church to give a program. Mrs. George Norfleet sent for them and took them to her home where they had a wonderful day. The children had a delightful time there and are still enjoying the candy and toys they were given before they left.

Miss Carson took the big girls to lunch in Statesville last night and they had an enjoyable time at her home before returning.

This program has been coming to you from station B. C., now signing off. Goodbye.

Quite a number of people ask us at this time every year how the Thanksgiving returns have been and we are never able to tell. We are always of a hopeful sort of disposition and usually say: "The early returns seem to be encouraging." We do not know whether this will apply this year or not. We are comparing this table with the table of one year ago, and we find that during November we received on regular contributions, $4,037.09 against $2,409.00 this year. A reduction this year of about $1,600-.00. The Thanksgiving offerings received at this date last year were $5,229.00 as against $4,421-.00—$800.00 less this year, and there has been one more day since Thanksgiving this year to account for than last. Thanksgiving Day was one day earlier this year.

Still, with all of that, we are not discouraged. We believe that the returns this year are going to be better than last, and that people are just holding back the Thanksgiving offering until more is paid in, before sending us the check.

We can't believe anything else, because in the face of the present emergency, thats the way it just has to be.

You will note further from this table that at this date the end of the eight month of the church year, we are due to have received from the Synod an average of $1.00 per member. We have actually received practically thirty-five cents per member; or just a little over one-third the amount necessary to run the Institution these eight months.

Only one Presbytery has past the half-way mark. Two have not quite reached the quarter.

We do not believe any further comment is necessary. Everyone who reads this knows where they live; they know which church they belong to; and if you do not know which Presbytery that church belongs to they can easily find out.

The reason your Presbytery stands where it does in this table is not on account of the building, or the geography, or the location, but on account of the individual members of each church of each resbytery, and that brings it down to each of us.

If you have not made your Thanksgiving offering, do not fail to do so at once, and make it a generous one.

JUST TOO LATE

There are a number of people who belong to the class of "just-too-laters." They are intelligent, well-meaning persons, who are victums of the habit which leads men to be very often just a little too late to do what they ought to do and fully intended to do. They get to the station just thirty seconds after the train has gone; they reach the wharf just in time to wave good-by to the boat they intended to take; they are just a day or two late in planting, just a trifle late in harvesting, just a day behind in filling orders,, just an hour too late in applying for a situation, just a little too late to seize opportunities, a fraction behind in the effort to make good.

Sometimes this means discomfort and worry to others, as when a man notifies his wife that he is bringing visitors to dinner just two hours after he had decided on it; no wonder the wife of such a man gets gray years ahead of the age Schedule. Sometimes it means heavy loss in dollars and cents, as when a young man decides to study Spanish a year too late to accept a coveted position where Spanish is a necessity. Sometimes this blameworthy tardiness makes all the difference between success and failure in life.

The difficulty seems due to two things, lack of foresight and the possession of too great inetia. When God puts a head on the human being he intends it for use, rather than ornament, and the man who will not use his head must be prepared to fall behind in the race. We can to a certain extent foresee the future, and we must do so if we are to be prepared for it. But foresight is useless unless we have energy enough to initiate our own action. We must be self-starters. The man who never acts without prodding will often act too late. Early in life we need to train ourselves to swift decision, otherwise we are fairly certain to drop into the class of the "just-too-laters".—Onward.

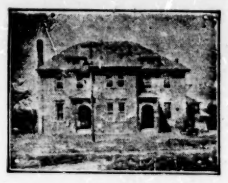
Charity and Children, Nov. 12.

Our boys came back from Barium Springs last week-end in good spirits even though they had lost the game of football played between the two teams. The game was a hard fought one and no alibies were offered. No alibi is needed by a team that is defeated by Barium Springs. The Barium Springs boys knows other things than how to play football. They know how to play a fair game and how to treat a visiting team. Those boys won something a great deal more important than a football game; they won the respect and admiration of the visiting team—and that goes for the whole institution.

Alexander - Dairy



Alexander CottageNov. 17—We are all excited over the game Saturday with Belmont Abbey. They have a good team this year but we are ready for them. We are having the game on Saturday to draw a big gate. Every body here is going to be there and have his cousin with him. We expect the biggest crowd of the season. We hope to have the victory. And a hard game also.

Rabbits are coming fast so far. Ralph Spencer and Carson Woods have caught the most so far this season. But this is just the beginning of the season. o

Our cows are giving more milk now. We are getting one hundred gallons a day. We brought our dry cows from the dry pasture to the new barn for the winter, we use more feed now.

John Cole McCrimmon, one of our boys is sick at the Infirmary. We hope he will soon be up again.

We have a new boy at our cottage now. His name is G. T. Nungesser.

Thanksgiving is almost here and we hope everyone has a nice dinner on Thanksgiving Day.

LEADERS OF TOMORROW

Said a woman to whom life has brought many a bitter lesson: "Fill your children as full of religion as you can, give them all of it they will hold, bathe them in it, surround them with every spiritual advantage, teach them holy things, let these become so much a part of their lives that they cannot shake them off—try as they may—in years to come. They will need it all, and if, out of the battle waged against the world, the flesh and the devil, (from which they will bear scars to their graves,) they keep the faith, they will have reasons to bless you. But in the world of doubt, cynicism and disenchantment, they will need every bit of religion with which you can furnish their soul's house. And to have it is their inalienable right!"— From Charity and Children.

WHAT HAVE I DONE

Everybody is talking about the why of this depression and there are thousands of answers, but underneath all the answers there is one prevalent note, "I am not to blame, the other fellow did it." That is the easy way to answer all questions, but do you not consider that the seriousness of the times require you and me to consider the matter a bit more frankly?

Instead of trying to excuse ourselves and blame the other fellow, who is doing the same thing, would it not be more proper if we were to humble ourselves before God and ask him, "What have I done?"

The causes are too numerous to mention of or confine our argument to the physical, but it is being borne in upon many of us that this is not so much a question of man's dealing with man, as most seem to think, but of God dealing with man. If this is the true solution of the vexing problem, let us in all sincerety ask ourselves, "Is God punishing us and why?"

To me the answer is very plain: in our prosperity of a few years back we did not give God that love and faith and the share of our prosperity that duly was His; we plumed ourselves on our successes in making money, we wasted where we should have saved and we gave Him dimes, where should have given Him dollars; how woefully we have failed Him, the Giver of every good and perfect gift. Is it not just that we should be punished, so that we may be persuaded to repent and do justly by Him in the days that lie ahead?

"GIVING IS LIVING"

"For giving is living," the angel said,
"Go feed to the hungry sweet charity's bread.'
"And must I keep giving again and again?"
My selfish and querulous answer ran
"Oh, no!" said the angel piercing me through,
"Just give 'till the Master stops giving to you."

True Rest

Each of two painters painted a picture to illustrate his conception of rest. The first chose for this scene a still, lone lake among the far-off mountains. The second threw on his canvass a thundering waterfall, with a fragile birch tree bending over the foam; at the fork of the branch, almost wet with the cataract's spray, a robin sat on its nest.

The first was only "Stagnation;" the last was "Rest." * * Christ's life outwardly was one of the most troubled lives that was ever lived; tempest and tumult, tumult and tempest, the waves breaking over it all the time till the worn body was laid in the grave.

But the inner life was a sea of glass. The great calm was always there. At any moment you might have gone to him and found rest. And even when his enemies were dogging him in the streets of Jerusalem, he turned to his disciples and offered them, as a last legacy, "My peace." —Henry Drummond.

I Am Yours

"I am your church. Make of me what you will. I shall reflect you as clearly as a mirror. If outwardly my appearnce is pleasing and inviting, it is because you have made me so. If within my spiritual atmosphere is kindly, yet earnestly reverent, yet friendly; worshipful, yet sincere; sympathetic, yet strong; divine, yet humanly expressed, it is but the manifestation of the spirt of those who constitute my membership. But if you should by chance find me a bit cold or dull, I beg of you not to condemn me; for I show forth only the kind of life I receive from you. I have no life or spirit apart from you.Of this you may always be assured, I will respond instanly to your every wish practically expressed, for I am the reflected image of your own soul. Make me what you will."—From the Bulletin of Walnut Street Baptist Church, Louisville, Ky.

Everybody can talk, but few can talk to the point.

It's easier to be well known than to be favorably known.

By the time we've solved today's problems we'll have a new set.

Now Better Than Ever

I would rather have one little rose
From the garden of a friend
Than to have the choicest flowers
When my stay on earth must end
I would rather have the kindest word
And a smile that I can see
Than flattery when my heart is still
And this life has ceased to be.
I would rather have a loving smile
From friends I know are true
Than tears shed 'round my casket
When this world I bid adieu.
Bring me all the flowers today,
Whether pink, or white, or red;
I'd rather have one blossom now
Than a truck-load when I'm dead.

Then there was the new college boy who after buying a raccoon coat, a broken down Ford covered with smart cracks, a slicker ditto, a saxaphone a ukele and several pairs of red and green suspenders, died of a broken heart because everyone thought he went to high school.

More Recent Athletic Doings

Our November issue of the Messenger had so many other things in it that part of our athletic doings had to be left out. All of the varsity games were written up, except the big game with the Presbyterian Junior College, on October 30th.

This was one of our big games. It so happened that the coaches gave both the Davidson Varsity and Freshman squads a holiday, and the majority of these players with their coaches came up to see the game. The afternoon was beautiful, and the game was most interesting. The Presbyterian Junior College with much the heavier team, started off with a powerful looking offensive. They completed a long forward pass, and several good gains, before Barium seemed to be able to check them. A long pass which was completed but which was fumbled and the fumble recovered by Barium was the first chance that Barium had to start on the offensive. Nevertheless all during the first quarter, Barium played a defensive game kicking on second or third downs. In the second quarter, Presbyterian fumbled a punt on their 12-yard line, and Barium drove down to the 1-yard line where the ball went over on downs. The Presbyterians kicked a short kick on first downs which was recovered by Barium on the twenty yard line. A drive from this point resulting in a touchdown. A few minutes later, another touchdown was put over, and that was all for that half; but in the second half, Barium really commenced to click, and the final score was 33-0. This score sounds like a walk-over, but Presbyterian did not quit fighting and in the last few minutes of the game, staged a drive that almost resulted in a score. Barium's supporters were badly frightened for fear that uncrossed goal line was going to have it happen to it then.

Taking up the Midget games, back on the morning of Oct. 17th, two teams from the Methodist Orphanage of Winston came down, and staged a double-header with our 100, and 125-pound teams on the morning just before the Duke-Davidson game. In both of these games, both teams were so intent on keeping the other from scoring that they did not develop enough punch to put over a score themselves. Both games resulted in scoreless ties. There was some brilliant playing in both games. Winston-Salem was superior in the 100-pounds with Barium slightly superior in the 125-pounds.After this experience, the two teams took dinner with us and then went down to enjoy seeing the Davidson-Duke fracas. The Winston Methodist coach is Bill Murray who was the big threat on Duke last year. It seems that this Methodist-Presbyterian encounter caught the habit from the smaller games in the morning, and it resulted in a scoreless tie, also. Nobody knows yet, which is the best—Presbyterian or Methodist.

On the morning of the 23rd, our 100-pound team played a return game with the Winston Methodists in Winston, and were defeated 7-0.

On the morning of the 31st, we again had a double-header at Barium. This time our 100-pound team played a similar team from the Mills Home. This was a hard fought contest but the Mills Home defeated Barium 7-0. We want to comment on the excellence of the 100-pound teams in the Orphanage Conference. It is not that Barium has such a weak team this year, but that the other three Orphanages had such excellent teams in the 100-pound class. Oxford so far has the best record with no defeats. But there is mighty little to choose between the Oxford, Mills Home and the Winston Methodist Home, in the excellence of these 100-pound teams.

On this morning, the Barium 115-pound team played a similar team from Concord, defeating them 20-0. This was a most interesting game, and a lot of good football was displayed by both teams.

On the following Tuesday, our 115-pound team journeyed to Davidson and played the Davidson High School Midgets. This was one of the closest games that our team has had this year. The final score being Barium 6, Davidson 0.

On Saturday morning, November the seventh, the Charlotte Cubs, the 115-pound average class, journeyed to Barium and were defeated again by the same score as a game played earlier in the season—13-0.

Never the less, this team from Charlotte showed remarkable improvement over the first game. Marvin Ritch is now coaching them, and they are planning to give the other teams in this Conference some trouble.

On November the fifth, we had a most interesting varsity game between Barium and Mills Home of Thomasville. The Mills Home is the largest Orphanage in North Carolina. They get out good teams in all their sports. They weigh practically the same thing that Barium weighs. They have the same determination to win that Barium has. and they threw the biggest scare into the home team that has been thrown into them this year. The first half was clearly the Mills Home's. They made more first downs; they advanced the ball more; they completed more passes; they got more yardage on kicks; and they intercepted Barium's efforts at passing. It looked like either a tie game or a victory for Mills Home, unless there was a big change. The second half, however, Barium began to click, getting the ball in Mills Home territory, they started a drive which finally resulted in a touchdown, King carried the ball over. Before the dust had settled on that, Pittman threw a pass from midfield to Albert Cumbie who carried the ball to the one yard line before being downed. Sears carried the ball over from this point for the second touchdown.

Later on in that same period, Pitman made several nice runs, carried the ball to the one yord line again, and Joe Johnston carried this one over for a touchdown. All points after touchdowns were completed.

Just to prove that they were not whipped, this fighting bunch of Baptists started a drive in the last few minutes of the game that came nearer than any team yet of putting over a touchdown. It was a second down, five yards to go for the goal; when the Quarterback elected to pass. The pass was beautifully executed, but the receiver was just too anxious and dropped the ball, and it was Barium's ball on the 20-yard line, and that danger was over.

We want everybody to keep this in mind: There never has been a dull game between the Mills Home and Barium Springs, and from indications this year, there never will be. Remember this, and when the schedule is published next year, make your reservations early. It is going to be a good game. It will be in Thomasville.

JUST AS FINE AS THE PLAYING

From Charity and Children.

The team of one hundred pound boys from the Children's Home, Winston-Salem, played Mills Home one hundred pounders to a 0-0 tie Saturday morning. Each team tried its best to score but the other said no. As the custom is members of the varsity team officiated. These high school students have done the best officiating we have seen this season. We have not heard of an unfair decision having been made by a single set. The big boys of Winston-Salem, Barium Springs, Oxford and Mills Home have officiated at games played by the midgets and their work has been fair and efficient. This good work is a credit to the large boys and to the institutions that they represent.

Miss Moore Writes Of Visit In City Of Jerusalem

Barium Infirmary Nurse Who Spent Past Summer In Holy Land Will Conclude Account Of Trip Next Month.

At Sea—

In my last letter we had been out side of Jerusalem and seen the walls.

We are starting now inside and have already described David Street which we leave to go to the Holy Sepulchre.

This Church is supposed to be on the sight of Golgotha and was first built by Constantine and his mother Helena.

The Church was twice burned and from a Christian church became the place of many faiths. There are about 62 places of interest to be seen but we felt we had seen enough when we visitd the three Greek Chapels. St. James, Mary Magdaline, the Forty Myrters, the Mission Bell Tower of Abraham, the Armenian Chapel of St. James, a Coptic Chapel, another Greek Chapel of St. Mary, an Egyptian Chapel, which is above the Latin Chapel of the Agony of the Virgin and a Moslem Mosque.

The stone of unction where Christ's body laid has a candle at each end and over head a number of beautiful lamps.

A fissure in a rock is said to be the place where Christ's blood flowed through and falling on Adams skull brought him to life.

Close here is where the Greek Orthodox Church gives out the Holy Fire at Easter time.

All who receives it becomes well and those in trouble are freed from it.

The crowd at such times of all sects number thousands and those who can sit in the gallery pay for the privilege of watching, "A worse thing come upon them" as they fight their way through the crowd to get the Fire.

This is the place in Jerusalem where much trouble arises as one steps over anothers domain is the cause of the police being called in many times.

The windows are among the gems of rare windows we saw every where some have been taken out and the British Government has offered $1,000,000 for three of those that remain in the Church.

A Miss Schicks is still living in Jerusalem since her father's death, and for a memorial for him his plans for the temple he worekd out after many years of hard work and study. The tabernacle Solomon's temple the one built by Jerubbabel and Herod's. The porches and courts explains many things that had never been clear to us before.

We spent a pleasant morning with her looking at the plans and the changes that have been made in the three temples. The one sacred spot in Jerusalem alike to Christian, Jew and Moslem is the temple area, This area contains about 17 acres and has since Abraham entered Palestine, made history for the world. It is called by every one today except the Moslem the Temple Area, but the Moslem calls it al-Harem, al-Sharif, and means "The August Sanctuary".

Beginning at the northwest corner we had a fine view of the wohle place inclosed in a wall. The east wall has the double portals of the Golden Gate. This is the gate Christ came through as He rode into Jerusalem on His triumphal entry into the city. It is also the gate that the Moslems say will end their reign inthe Holy Land if it is opened, the Moslems having sealed it up long years ago When Caliph Omar occupied Jerusalem he came, first to this place, as it is said to be the place the Prophet Mohammed with his steed was miraculously translated.

We were not told whether that was the ending of the horseback-riding or not or why the tourist has the donkey and camel for their journeys on sight-seeing days.

When Caliph Omar came he found the place a rubbish heap, the ruins of 70 A. D. were still there, he at once had a mosque built there and tho it has been destroped and the mosque of 'the Dome of the Rock" has been built the name Omar still clings to it. The Crusaders took this mosque in 1099, turned the mosque into a church and considered it the Temple of the Lord and here the Knight Templars order was formed.

In 1187 The Moslems regained possession.

Everything Christian was removed and where that was not possible as on the walls, they were covered with tiles.

The Dome of the Rock stands about 12 feet higher than the area and is reached on each side by flights of broad steps and at the landing a beautiful arcade.

It is octagon in shape and has 4 entrances, each one having a name.

Bab al-Qible on the south is much used as that is toward Mecca.

The lower part is finished with marble and the upper part with beautiful glazed tile, the frieze above is part of the Koran. Above all is the dome rebuilt in 1022 and is surmounted by the crescent. The inisde, like many of the buildings of the east, was dark, but as you watched the reflections of light that did come in on the beautifully veined marble carved by a master's hand you realized that when you were told it was the second most beautiful building in the world you could believe it. The columns supporting the roof were brought from different places giving a variety of size and color and some being pieces cut and painted.

The rock from which it receives its name is inclosed in an iron railing and is 44x58 feet, a hole has been found in this rock which is supposed to be the one through which the sacrificial blood flowed to a cave that is under the rock.

Each place we visit we are told a few things we take with a grain of salt

We were shown here a place where when Mohammed was praying when he went to lift his head he was about to strike it and would have if the rock had not very obligingly raised up about six inches.

The finger prints of Gabriel, the footprints of the Prophet, and a few other things that may or may not be true.

We came out at the south door and came by the fountain where men were washing for prayer and on down to the city water works.

Here are cisterns holding one million gallons. Every day the water carriers come with their goat-skin bottles or their Standard Oil cans and fill them to take thru the city to sell.

Some had donkeys to carry the load from house to house, but many of them carried theirs on their backs.

Still going south is another mosque made of a collection that came from other places, and some of the remains of the Christian church in the days of the Crusaders. This was the only mosque we had visited that had place for or women were allowed to enter.

Saint Ann's is a church a little north and east of the temple area and close to the sheep gate. We saw places where traditions says much about the Virgin Mary and we were shown places where she wept and lived some of her life, but the stories seemed but idle tales. But passing into a small courtyard you come to the pool of Bethesda. There is no doubt about the pool as the four porches around the sides and one dividing it across the middle leaves no doubt that it is the true pool. You go down about 30 feet to get to it now and for those who do not care to go down there are gratings for one to look thru. As you pass into the inclosure you read, if you are able, the information about the pool in eighty different languages.

Later we came to the Tower of David which is now a museum of very interesting things, and you feel very ancient as you stand on the drawbridge looking down on the moat thirty feet below and think of the history that it has helped to make.

Every place is known by the word quarters and this is the day for the Armenian quarters. Beyond the Citadel through police headquarters we walk through very clean streets for this city, and passing into a courtyard met a number of women and children, clean, happy looking faces. We were told that when war had scattered the Armenians 4000 came to this home and were clothed, sheltered and fed until work and homes could be found. Now only about 400 are left of the 4000.

This is the place where your imagination is stretched to the limit.

We were taken first to the upper room where the last supper was held and just below is David's Tomb. This particular room is Moselm property. In the Armenian church we saw a stone from Mt. Sinai, Mt. Ararat, the stone that cried out at the triumphal entry into the city by Christ. The one rolled away from Christ's Tomb. We also saw where Christ had been in prison.

A picture depicting the Christian life here and hereafter, one of the scenes of the hereafter was Satan and a large numbr of his imps shoveling coal into the fire where the protestants were burning.

We saw where the cock was when he crowed the night Peter denied his Lord.

There is no place in the Koran where a bell is used, so bells were not allowed at one time, but a compromise was made by allowing them to use a gong of which they have two, a wooden one that gives very little sound, and a copper one that gives out a very sweet tone.

We believe if these people could invent some way of earning their bread besides offering stones to the simple tourist they would be better off.

Leaving what we had hoped were all the stones and wobbling over cobble stone streets we reached the Jewish quarters.

The streets were ceaner than in other Jewish quarters we had visited and the children were very beautiful.

They are laying water down in that section now and one street they are laid above ground which hardly gives you room to walk.

We were told that when a riot occurrs it is sometimes in this part of the city and blood flows down the street like water.

Stopping for a few minutes to watch the Jews assemble in their synogogue, dressed in the richest of robes, we listened to the way the Palestine Jew treats the Spanish Jew who has built very near them

In a few minutes we found ourselves overlooking the Wailing Wall.

This Wall is as near as a Jew ever gets to the Temple Area, for two reasons. One, the Moslems won't allow them and another, they are afraid they might walk over the spot they think the Holy of Holies is buried.

A few years ago when Baron de Rothchilds wanted to visit this sacred place he hired two Aarbs to carry him in a chair.

Coming around to the north side of the Wall we were down among the wailers.

Women and men standing as near the Wall as they could get reading prayers, and weeping for the condition of their nation.

The Arab makes this a day to see how much noise he can make to annoy the Jew, and the tourist acts no better, watching those who wail at the Wall and making comments about it.

On Sunday we went to the American Colony Church. This Colony has a long and interesting history and is doing much good in some ways. The commercial side seems to be stressed more than its spiritual side.

In the afternoon we took a long walk, passing King David's hotel and the beautiful new $1,000,000 Y. M. C. A. they are building, a gift from an unknown friend.

It is a beautiful building with grounds for all kinds of out-door sports.

Beautiful Humility

The greatest character in all human history—Jesus Christ—performed mircles and stayed humble. There is no evidence in the New Testament of one boastful word that he ever uttered. Without looking it up, I think I may safely set it down here that the miracle of yesterday was, with him, a closed incident. He never brought it up as a topic of conversation, and he never referred to it as a proof of his own greatness. Conscious of his divinity, he stayed human and humble and set a lasting example for all men of all times.

Music Club Meets

On Thursday, October 22 the Music Club had its first regular meeting. The meeting was called to order by the president. Then the roll was called and the minutes of the last meeting read and adopted. The following program was rendered:

Curious Story ..... Hattie Morris
Hawaiian Nights ..... Joy Stone
Report of the Lenoir meeting ..... Marian McCall
Over Hill and Dale ..... Iris Spencer
Jeur Elise ..... T. L. O'Kelley
Garden Party ..... Mary Latham West and Elizabeth Harrison
Story of the opera Bohemian Girl ..... Ruth Morris
(Music from this opera was played by Miss Greene.)

The critic's report was then heard, after which the members of the Club enjoyed a musical Contest. Ice cream and cake were served by the Program Committe and Miss Doggett.

Synod

SYNODS COTTAGE, Nov. 18—Here we are just about a month from Christmas. We wonder if 'Ole Santa is working hard getting ready for the big day. We have been playing football quite a lot. We went to Davidson and played between the half of the Davidson—V. M. I. game. game. We have also played between the halves at some of our big games. We have to go to bed and rest before the game just like the real team. We have also played between the halves of some of our big games. house a week ago Saturday. "O boy! wht a good time we had. We had eight Jack-O-Lanterns and when we put out the light it looked real spooky.

We have two little new boy twins, Victor and Gastonia Alessandrini. We sure are glad to have them stay at our house.

We are going to have a big game with Belmont Abbey November 21st, and we hope we will win.

We are very busy there days raking leaves and playing in them.

Well we will close until next time.

Messenger's Kit o' Smiles

The colonel's wife sent the following note to Captain Green:

"Colonel and Mrs. Brown request the pleasure of Captain Green's company to dinner on the twentieth."

Captain Green's reply gave her a shock. It reads as follows:

"With the exception of four men on leave and two men sick, Captain Green's company have great pleasure in accepting your invitation.'"

The teacher was testing the knowledge of the kindergarten class. Slaping a half dollar on the desk, she said sharply, "What is that?"

Instantly a voice from the back row, "Tails!"

"Somebody asked an old Waterloo soldier, who at the battle of Waterloo was in charge of a gun holding an important summit, what he could see when the battle was going on. 'See!' he said, 'nothing but dust and smoke.' 'What did you do?' 'Do! I stood by my gun.' Christian, whether you know the day is against you or for you, whether this thing is true or another thing is true, stand by your gun!"

Browne: "Did my wife speak at the meeting yesterday?"

Smythe: "I don't know your wife, but there was a tall, thin woman who rose and said she could not find words to express her feelings."

Browne: "That wasn't my wife."

The bottle of perfume that Willie sent
Was very displeasing to Millicent.
Her thanks were so cold
That they quarreled, I'm told,
Through the silly scent Willie sent
Millicent. —Tid-Bits.

Mother: "Whyever are you sitting there when you ought to be in bed?"

Peter: "There's a mosquitoe in my room."

Mother: "It hasn't bitten you, has it, darling?"

Peter: "No, but it came so close that I could hear its propellers."

A small boy had watched a telephone repairman climb a pole, connect a test set and try to obtain the connection. The youngster listened a few minutes and rushed into the house exclaiming, "Mama, come out here quick. There is a man up a telephone pole talking to heaven."

"What makes you think he is talking to heaven?"

"Cause he hollered 'Hell! hello! hello! good lord, what's the matter up there; can't anyone hear'?"

Book Agent: "This book will teach you the way to economise."

The Victim 'That's no good to me. What I need is a book to teach me how to live without economising."

A young girl came to the late Father Healy, of Dublin, and confessed that she feared she had incurred the sin of vanity. "What makes you think that?" asked her father confessor. "Because every morning when I look into the mirror I think how beutiful I am." "Never fear, my girl," was the reassuring reply. "That isn't a sin; it's only a mistake."

It was Sunday evening. The minister had arrived at "thirdly," and the hour was nine. Suddenly he noticed a man sleeping—and in the front pew.

"Will you please wake up that brother next to you?" he said in a low tone to a man sitting beside the sleeper. The latter replied loudly: "Wake him up yourself. You put him to sleep."

What do you think of this girls?
The Empress Eugenie
Was surely a meanie

Nurse (suspiciously): "What have you been doing, Ellen?"

Ellen: "Rover's eaten my dolly's slippers, so I've been punishing him."

"How?"

"I've been to his kennel and drinked his milk."

JUST TOO LATE

There are a number of people who belong to the class of "just-too-laters." They are intelligent, well-meaning persons, who are victums of the habit which leads men to be very often just a little too late to do what they ought to do and fully intended to do. They get to the station just thirty seconds after the train has gone; they reach the wharf just in time to wave good-by to the boat they intended to take; they are just a day or two late in planting, just a trifle late in harvesting, just a day behind in filling orders,, just an hour too late in applying for a situation, just a little too late to seize opportunities, a fraction behind in the effort to make good.

Sometimes this means discomfort and worry to others, as when a man notifies his wife that he is bringing visitors to dinner just two hours after he had decided on it; no wonder the wife of such a man gets gray years ahead of the age Schedule. Sometimes it means heavy loss in dollars and cents, as when a young man decides to study Spanish a year too late to accept a coveted position where Spanish is a necessity. Sometimes this blameworthy tardiness makes all the difference between success and failure in life.

The difficulty seems due to two things, lack of foresight and the possession of too great inetia. When God puts a head on the human being he intends it for use, rather than ornament, and the man who will not use his head must be prepared to fall behind in the race. We can to a certain extent foresee the future, and we must do so if we are to be prepared for it. But foresight is useless unless we have energy enough to initiate our own action. We must be self-starters. The man who never acts without prodding will often act too late. Early in life we need to train ourselves to swift decision, otherwise we are fairly certain to drop into the class of the "just-too-laters".—Onward.

Charity and Children, Nov. 12.

Our boys came back from Barium Springs last week-end in good spirits even though they had lost the game of football played between the two teams. The game was a hard fought one and no alibies were offered. No alibi is needed by a team that is defeated by Barium Springs. The Barium Springs boys knows other things than how to play football. They know how to play a fair game and how to treat a visiting team. Those boys won something a great deal more important than a football game; they won the respect and admiration of the visiting team—and that goes for the whole institution.

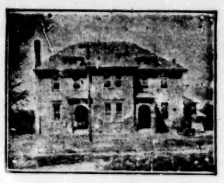
Alexander - Dairy



Alexander CottageNov. 17—We are all excited over the game Saturday with Belmont Abbey. They have a good team this year but we are ready for them. We are having the game on Saturday to draw a big gate. Every body here is going to be there and have his cousin with him. We expect the biggest crowd of the season. We hope to have the victory. And a hard game also.

Rabbits are coming fast so far. Ralph Spencer and Carson Woods have caught the most so far this season. But this is just the beginning of the season. o

Our cows are giving more milk now. We are getting one hundred gallons a day. We brought our dry cows from the dry pasture to the new barn for the winter, we use more feed now.

John Cole McCrimmon, one of our boys is sick at the Infirmary. We hope he will soon be up again.

We have a new boy at our cottage now. His name is G. T. Nungesser.

Thanksgiving is almost here and we hope everyone has a nice dinner on Thanksgiving Day.

LEADERS OF TOMORROW

Said a woman to whom life has brought many a bitter lesson: "Fill your children as full of religion as you can, give them all of it they will hold, bathe them in it, surround them with every spiritual advantage, teach them holy things, let these become so much a part of their lives that they cannot shake them off—try as they may—in years to come. They will need it all, and if, out of the battle waged against the world, the flesh and the devil, (from which they will bear scars to their graves,) they keep the faith, they will have reasons to bless you. But in the world of doubt, cynicism and disenchantment, they will need every bit of religion with which you can furnish their soul's house. And to have it is their inalienable right!"— From Charity and Children.

WHAT HAVE I DONE

Everybody is talking about the why of this depression and there are thousands of answers, but underneath all the answers there is one prevalent note, "I am not to blame, the other fellow did it." That is the easy way to answer all questions, but do you not consider that the seriousness of the times require you and me to consider the matter a bit more frankly?

Instead of trying to excuse ourselves and blame the other fellow, who is doing the same thing, would it not be more proper if we were to humble ourselves before God and ask him, "What have I done?"

The causes are too numerous to mention of or confine our argument to the physical, but it is being borne in upon many of us that this is not so much a question of man's dealing with man, as most seem to think, but of God dealing with man. If this is the true solution of the vexing problem, let us in all sincerety ask ourselves, "Is God punishing us and why?"

To me the answer is very plain: in our prosperity of a few years back we did not give God that love and faith and the share of our prosperity that duly was His; we plumed ourselves on our successes in making money, we wasted where we should have saved and we gave Him dimes, where should have given Him dollars; how woefully we have failed Him, the Giver of every good and perfect gift. Is it not just that we should be punished, so that we may be persuaded to repent and do justly by Him in the days that lie ahead?

"GIVING IS LIVING"

"For giving is living," the angel said,
"Go feed to the hungry sweet charity's bread.'
"And must I keep giving again and again?"
My selfish and querulous answer ran
"Oh, no!" said the angel piercing me through,
"Just give 'till the Master stops giving to you."

True Rest

Each of two painters painted a picture to illustrate his conception of rest. The first chose for this scene a still, lone lake among the far-off mountains. The second threw on his canvass a thundering waterfall, with a fragile birch tree bending over the foam; at the fork of the branch, almost wet with the cataract's spray, a robin sat on its nest.

The first was only "Stagnation;" the last was "Rest." * * Christ's life outwardly was one of the most troubled lives that was ever lived; tempest and tumult, tumult and tempest, the waves breaking over it all the time till the worn body was laid in the grave.

But the inner life was a sea of glass. The great calm was always there. At any moment you might have gone to him and found rest. And even when his enemies were dogging him in the streets of Jerusalem, he turned to his disciples and offered them, as a last legacy, "My peace." —Henry Drummond.

Jenkins: "Well, has your eating beef all your life done you any good?"

Hobson: "Has it? Why I feel as strong as an ox!"

Jenkins: "That's queer. I've been eating fish for about five months and I can't swim a stroke."

—P. O. H.—

Visitor: "Well, Joe, how do you like your new little sister?"

Joe: "Oh, she's all right, I guess; but there are lots of things we needed worse."

"What are you running for?" the motorist inquired.

"There's a wild beast show down there and a lion's broke loose," was the reply.

"Which way did he go?"

"Well, you don't' suppose I'm chasing him do you?"

—P. O. H.—

"So Ethel returned your engagement ring?"

"Yes, she mailed it to me and she had the nerve to paste a label on the outside of the package: 'Glass, handle with care.'"

I Am Yours

"I am your church. Make of me what you will. I shall reflect you as clearly as a mirror. If outwardly my appearnce is pleasing and inviting, it is because you have made me so. If within my spiritual atmosphere is kindly, yet earnestly reverent, yet friendly; worshipful, yet sincere; sympathetic, yet strong; divine, yet humanly expressed, it is but the manifestation of the spirt of those who constitute my membership. But if you should by chance find me a bit cold or dull, I beg of you not to condemn me; for I show forth only the kind of life I receive from you. I have no life or spirit apart from you.Of this you may always be assured, I will respond instanly to your every wish practically expressed, for I am the reflected image of your own soul. Make me what you will."—From the Bulletin of Walnut Street Baptist Church, Louisville, Ky.

Everybody can talk, but few can talk to the point.

It's easier to be well known than to be favorably known.

By the time we've solved today's problems we'll have a new set.

Now Better Than Ever

I would rather have one little rose
From the garden of a friend
Than to have the choicest flowers
When my stay on earth must end
I would rather have the kindest word
And a smile that I can see
Than flattery when my heart is still
And this life has ceased to be.
I would rather have a loving smile
From friends I know are true
Than tears shed 'round my casket
When this world I bid adieu.
Bring me all the flowers today,
Whether pink, or white, or red;
I'd rather have one blossom now
Than a truck-load when I'm dead.

More Recent Athletic Doings

Our November issue of the Messenger had so many other things in it that part of our athletic doings had to be left out. All of the varsity games were written up, except the big game with the Presbyterian Junior College, on October 30th.

This was one of our big games. It so happened that the coaches gave both the Davidson Varsity and Freshman squads a holiday, and the majority of these players with their coaches came up to see the game. The afternoon was beautiful, and the game was most interesting. The Presbyterian Junior College with much the heavier team, started off with a powerful looking offensive. They completed a long forward pass, and several good gains, before Barium seemed to be able to check them. A long pass which was completed but which was fumbled and the fumble recovered by Barium was the first chance that Barium had to start on the offensive. Nevertheless all during the first quarter, Barium played a defensive game kicking on second or third downs. In the second quarter, Presbyterian fumbled a punt on their 12-yard line, and Barium drove down to the 1-yard line where the ball went over on downs. The Presbyterians kicked a short kick on first downs which was recovered by Barium on the twenty yard line. A drive from this point resulting in a touchdown. A few minutes later, another touchdown was put over, and that was all for that half; but in the second half, Barium really commenced to click, and the final score was 33-0. This score sounds like a walk-over, but Presbyterian did not quit fighting and in the last few minutes of the game, staged a drive that almost resulted in a score. Barium's supporters were badly frightened for fear that uncrossed goal line was going to have it happen to it then.

Taking up the Midget games, back on the morning of Oct. 17th, two teams from the Methodist Orphanage of Winston came down, and staged a double-header with our 100, and 125-pound teams on the morning just before the Duke-Davidson game. In both of these games, both teams were so intent on keeping the other from scoring that they did not develop enough punch to put over a score themselves. Both games resulted in scoreless ties. There was some brilliant playing in both games. Winston-Salem was superior in the 100-pounds with Barium slightly superior in the 125-pounds.After this experience, the two teams took dinner with us and then went down to enjoy seeing the Davidson-Duke fracas. The Winston Methodist coach is Bill Murray who was the big threat on Duke last year. It seems that this Methodist-Presbyterian encounter caught the habit from the smaller games in the morning, and it resulted in a scoreless tie, also. Nobody knows yet, which is the best—Presbyterian or Methodist.

On the morning of the 23rd, our 100-pound team played a return game with the Winston Methodists in Winston, and were defeated 7-0.

On the morning of the 31st, we again had a double-header at Barium. This time our 100-pound team played a similar team from the Mills Home. This was a hard fought contest but the Mills Home defeated Barium 7-0. We want to comment on the excellence of the 100-pound teams in the Orphanage Conference. It is not that Barium has such a weak team this year, but that the other three Orphanages had such excellent teams in the 100-pound class. Oxford so far has the best record with no defeats. But there is mighty little to choose between the Oxford, Mills Home and the Winston Methodist Home, in the excellence of these 100-pound teams.

On this morning, the Barium 115-pound team played a similar team from Concord, defeating them 20-0. This was a most interesting game, and a lot of good football was displayed by both teams.

On the following Tuesday, our 115-pound team journeyed to Davidson and played the Davidson High School Midgets. This was one of the closest games that our team has had this year. The final score being Barium 6, Davidson 0.

On Saturday morning, November the seventh, the Charlotte Cubs, the 115-pound average class, journeyed to Barium and were defeated again by the same score as a game played earlier in the season—13-0.

Never the less, this team from Charlotte showed remarkable improvement over the first game. Marvin Ritch is now coaching them, and they are planning to give the other teams in this Conference some trouble.

On November the fifth, we had a most interesting varsity game between Barium and Mills Home of Thomasville. The Mills Home is the largest Orphanage in North Carolina. They get out good teams in all their sports. They weigh practically the same thing that Barium weighs. They have the same determination to win that Barium has. and they threw the biggest scare into the home team that has been thrown into them this year. The first half was clearly the Mills Home's. They made more first downs; they advanced the ball more; they completed more passes; they got more yardage on kicks; and they intercepted Barium's efforts at passing. It looked like either a tie game or a victory for Mills Home, unless there was a big change. The second half, however, Barium began to click, getting the ball in Mills Home territory, they started a drive which finally resulted in a touchdown, King carried the ball over. Before the dust had settled on that, Pittman threw a pass from midfield to Albert Cumbie who carried the ball to the one yard line before being downed. Sears carried the ball over from this point for the second touchdown.

Later on in that same period, Pitman made several nice runs, carried the ball to the one yord line again, and Joe Johnston carried this one over for a touchdown. All points after touchdowns were completed.

Just to prove that they were not whipped, this fighting bunch of Baptists started a drive in the last few minutes of the game that came nearer than any team yet of putting over a touchdown. It was a second down, five yards to go for the goal; when the Quarterback elected to pass. The pass was beautifully executed, but the receiver was just too anxious and dropped the ball, and it was Barium's ball on the 20-yard line, and that danger was over.

We want everybody to keep this in mind: There never has been a dull game between the Mills Home and Barium Springs, and from indications this year, there never will be. Remember this, and when the schedule is published next year, make your reservations early. It is going to be a good game. It will be in Thomasville.

JUST AS FINE AS THE PLAYING

From Charity and Children.

The team of one hundred pound boys from the Children's Home, Winston-Salem, played Mills Home one hundred pounders to a 0-0 tie Saturday morning. Each team tried its best to score but the other said no. As the custom is members of the varsity team officiated. These high school students have done the best officiating we have seen this season. We have not heard of an unfair decision having been made by a single set. The big boys of Winston-Salem, Barium Springs, Oxford and Mills Home have officiated at games played by the midgets and their work has been fair and efficient. This good work is a credit to the large boys and to the institutions that they represent.

Miss Moore Writes Of Visit In City Of Jerusalem

Barium Infirmary Nurse Who Spent Past Summer In Holy Land Will Conclude Account Of Trip Next Month.

At Sea—

In my last letter we had been out side of Jerusalem and seen the walls.

We are starting now inside and have already described David Street which we leave to go to the Holy Sepulchre.

This Church is supposed to be on the sight of Golgotha and was first built by Constantine and his mother Helena.

The Church was twice burned and from a Christian church became the place of many faiths. There are about 62 places of interest to be seen but we felt we had seen enough when we visitd the three Greek Chapels. St. James, Mary Magdaline, the Forty Myrters, the Mission Bell Tower of Abraham, the Armenian Chapel of St. James, a Coptic Chapel, another Greek Chapel of St. Mary, an Egyptian Chapel, which is above the Latin Chapel of the Agony of the Virgin and a Moslem Mosque.

The stone of unction where Christ's body laid has a candle at each end and over head a number of beautiful lamps.

A fissure in a rock is said to be the place where Christ's blood flowed through and falling on Adams skull brought him to life.

Close here is where the Greek Orthodox Church gives out the Holy Fire at Easter time.

All who receives it becomes well and those in trouble are freed from it.

The crowd at such times of all sects number thousands and those who can sit in the gallery pay for the privilege of watching, "A worse thing come upon them" as they fight their way through the crowd to get the Fire.

This is the place in Jerusalem where much trouble arises as one steps over anothers domain is the cause of the police being called in many times.

The windows are among the gems of rare windows we saw every where some have been taken out and the British Government has offered $1,000,000 for three of those that remain in the Church.

A Miss Schicks is still living in Jerusalem since her father's death, and for a memorial for him his plans for the temple he worekd out after many years of hard work and study. The tabernacle Solomon's temple the one built by Jerubbabel and Herod's. The porches and courts explains many things that had never been clear to us before.

We spent a pleasant morning with her looking at the plans and the changes that have been made in the three temples. The one sacred spot in Jerusalem alike to Christian, Jew and Moslem is the temple area, This area contains about 17 acres and has since Abraham entered Palestine, made history for the world. It is called by every one today except the Moslem the Temple Area, but the Moslem calls it al-Harem, al-Sharif, and means "The August Sanctuary".

Beginning at the northwest corner we had a fine view of the wohle place inclosed in a wall. The east wall has the double portals of the Golden Gate. This is the gate Christ came through as He rode into Jerusalem on His triumphal entry into the city. It is also the gate that the Moslems say will end their reign inthe Holy Land if it is opened, the Moslems having sealed it up long years ago When Caliph Omar occupied Jerusalem he came, first to this place, as it is said to be the place the Prophet Mohammed with his steed was miraculously translated.

We were not told whether that was the ending of the horseback-riding or not or why the tourist has the donkey and camel for their journeys on sight-seeing days.

When Caliph Omar came he found the place a rubbish heap, the ruins of 70 A. D. were still there, he at once had a mosque built there and tho it has been destroped and the mosque of 'the Dome of the Rock" has been built the name Omar still clings to it. The Crusaders took this mosque in 1099, turned the mosque into a church and considered it the Temple of the Lord and here the Knight Templars order was formed.

In 1187 The Moslems regained possession.

Everything Christian was removed and where that was not possible as on the walls, they were covered with tiles.

The Dome of the Rock stands about 12 feet higher than the area and is reached on each side by flights of broad steps and at the landing a beautiful arcade.

It is octagon in shape and has 4 entrances, each one having a name.

Bab al-Qible on the south is much used as that is toward Mecca.

The lower part is finished with marble and the upper part with beautiful glazed tile, the frieze above is part of the Koran. Above all is the dome rebuilt in 1022 and is surmounted by the crescent. The inisde, like many of the buildings of the east, was dark, but as you watched the reflections of light that did come in on the beautifully veined marble carved by a master's hand you realized that when you were told it was the second most beautiful building in the world you could believe it. The columns supporting the roof were brought from different places giving a variety of size and color and some being pieces cut and painted.

The rock from which it receives its name is inclosed in an iron railing and is 44x58 feet, a hole has been found in this rock which is supposed to be the one through which the sacrificial blood flowed to a cave that is under the rock.

Each place we visit we are told a few things we take with a grain of salt

We were shown here a place where when Mohammed was praying when he went to lift his head he was about to strike it and would have if the rock had not very obligingly raised up about six inches.

The finger prints of Gabriel, the footprints of the Prophet, and a few other things that may or may not be true.

We came out at the south door and came by the fountain where men were washing for prayer and on down to the city water works.

Here are cisterns holding one million gallons. Every day the water carriers come with their goat-skin bottles or their Standard Oil cans and fill them to take thru the city to sell.

Some had donkeys to carry the load from house to house, but many of them carried theirs on their backs.

Still going south is another mosque made of a collection that came from other places, and some of the remains of the Christian church in the days of the Crusaders. This was the only mosque we had visited that had place for or women were allowed to enter.

Saint Ann's is a church a little north and east of the temple area and close to the sheep gate. We saw places where traditions says much about the Virgin Mary and we were shown places where she wept and lived some of her life, but the stories seemed but idle tales. But passing into a small courtyard you come to the pool of Bethesda. There is no doubt about the pool as the four porches around the sides and one dividing it across the middle leaves no doubt that it is the true pool. You go down about 30 feet to get to it now and for those who do not care to go down there are gratings for one to look thru. As you pass into the inclosure you read, if you are able, the information about the pool in eighty different languages.

Later we came to the Tower of David which is now a museum of very interesting things, and you feel very ancient as you stand on the drawbridge looking down on the moat thirty feet below and think of the history that it has helped to make.

Every place is known by the word quarters and this is the day for the Armenian quarters. Beyond the Citadel through police headquarters we walk through very clean streets for this city, and passing into a courtyard met a number of women and children, clean, happy looking faces. We were told that when war had scattered the Armenians 4000 came to this home and were clothed, sheltered and fed until work and homes could be found. Now only about 400 are left of the 4000.

This is the place where your imagination is stretched to the limit.

We were taken first to the upper room where the last supper was held and just below is David's Tomb. This particular room is Moselm property. In the Armenian church we saw a stone from Mt. Sinai, Mt. Ararat, the stone that cried out at the triumphal entry into the city by Christ. The one rolled away from Christ's Tomb. We also saw where Christ had been in prison.

A picture depicting the Christian life here and hereafter, one of the scenes of the hereafter was Satan and a large numbr of his imps shoveling coal into the fire where the protestants were burning.

We saw where the cock was when he crowed the night Peter denied his Lord.

There is no place in the Koran where a bell is used, so bells were not allowed at one time, but a compromise was made by allowing them to use a gong of which they have two, a wooden one that gives very little sound, and a copper one that gives out a very sweet tone.

We believe if these people could invent some way of earning their bread besides offering stones to the simple tourist they would be better off.

Leaving what we had hoped were all the stones and wobbling over cobble stone streets we reached the Jewish quarters.

The streets were ceaner than in other Jewish quarters we had visited and the children were very beautiful.

They are laying water down in that section now and one street they are laid above ground which hardly gives you room to walk.

We were told that when a riot occurrs it is sometimes in this part of the city and blood flows down the street like water.

Stopping for a few minutes to watch the Jews assemble in their synogogue, dressed in the richest of robes, we listened to the way the Palestine Jew treats the Spanish Jew who has built very near them

In a few minutes we found ourselves overlooking the Wailing Wall.

This Wall is as near as a Jew ever gets to the Temple Area, for two reasons. One, the Moslems won't allow them and another, they are afraid they might walk over the spot they think the Holy of Holies is buried.

A few years ago when Baron de Rothchilds wanted to visit this sacred place he hired two Aarbs to carry him in a chair.

Coming around to the north side of the Wall we were down among the wailers.

Women and men standing as near the Wall as they could get reading prayers, and weeping for the condition of their nation.

The Arab makes this a day to see how much noise he can make to annoy the Jew, and the tourist acts no better, watching those who wail at the Wall and making comments about it.

On Sunday we went to the American Colony Church. This Colony has a long and interesting history and is doing much good in some ways. The commercial side seems to be stressed more than its spiritual side.

In the afternoon we took a long walk, passing King David's hotel and the beautiful new $1,000,000 Y. M. C. A. they are building, a gift from an unknown friend.

It is a beautiful building with grounds for all kinds of out-door sports.

Beautiful Humility

The greatest character in all human history—Jesus Christ—performed mircles and stayed humble. There is no evidence in the New Testament of one boastful word that he ever uttered. Without looking it up, I think I may safely set it down here that the miracle of yesterday was, with him, a closed incident. He never brought it up as a topic of conversation, and he never referred to it as a proof of his own greatness. Conscious of his divinity, he stayed human and humble and set a lasting example for all men of all times.

Music Club Meets

On Thursday, October 22 the Music Club had its first regular meeting. The meeting was called to order by the president. Then the roll was called and the minutes of the last meeting read and adopted. The following program was rendered:

Curious Story ..... Hattie Morris
Hawaiian Nights ..... Joy Stone
Report of the Lenoir meeting ..... Marian McCall
Over Hill and Dale ..... Iris Spencer
Jeur Elise ..... T. L. O'Kelley
Garden Party ..... Mary Latham West and Elizabeth Harrison
Story of the opera Bohemian Girl ..... Ruth Morris
(Music from this opera was played by Miss Greene.)

The critic's report was then heard, after which the members of the Club enjoyed a musical Contest. Ice cream and cake were served by the Program Committe and Miss Doggett.

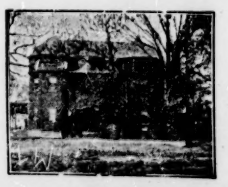
Synod



SYNODS COTTAGE, Nov. 18—Here we are just about a month from Christmas. We wonder if 'Ole Santa is working hard getting ready for the big day. We have been playing football quite a lot. We went to Davidson and played between the half of the Davidson—V. M. I. game. game. We have also played between the halves at some of our big games. We have to go to bed and rest before the game just like the real team. We have also played between the halves of some of our big games. house a week ago Saturday. "O boy! wht a good time we had. We had eight Jack-O-Lanterns and when we put out the light it looked real spooky.

We have two little new boy twins, Victor and Gastonia Alessandrini. We sure are glad to have them stay at our house.

We are going to have a big game with Belmont Abbey November 21st, and we hope we will win.

We are very busy there days raking leaves and playing in them.

Well we will close until next time.

"THE FORTY WIGGLERS'

Messenger's Kit o' Smiles

The colonel's wife sent the following note to Captain Green:

"Colonel and Mrs. Brown request the pleasure of Captain Green's company to dinner on the twentieth."

Captain Green's reply gave her a shock. It reads as follows:

"With the exception of four men on leave and two men sick, Captain Green's company have great pleasure in accepting your invitation.'"

The teacher was testing the knowledge of the kindergarten class. Slaping a half dollar on the desk, she said sharply, "What is that?"

Instantly a voice from the back row, "Tails!"

"Somebody asked an old Waterloo soldier, who at the battle of Waterloo was in charge of a gun holding an important summit, what he could see when the battle was going on. 'See!' he said, 'nothing but dust and smoke.' 'What did you do?' 'Do! I stood by my gun.' Christian, whether you know the day is against you or for you, whether this thing is true or another thing is true, stand by your gun!"

Browne: "Did my wife speak at the meeting yesterday?"

Smythe: "I don't know your wife, but there was a tall, thin woman who rose and said she could not find words to express her feelings."

Browne: "That wasn't my wife."

The bottle of perfume that Willie sent
Was very displeasing to Millicent.
Her thanks were so cold
That they quarreled, I'm told,
Through the silly scent Willie sent
Millicent. —Tid-Bits.

Mother: "Whyever are you sitting there when you ought to be in bed?"

Peter: "There's a mosquitoe in my room."

Mother: "It hasn't bitten you, has it, darling?"

Peter: "No, but it came so close that I could hear its propellers."

A small boy had watched a telephone repairman climb a pole, connect a test set and try to obtain the connection. The youngster listened a few minutes and rushed into the house exclaiming, "Mama, come out here quick. There is a man up a telephone pole talking to heaven."

"What makes you think he is talking to heaven?"

"Cause he hollered 'Hell! hello! hello! good lord, what's the matter up there; can't anyone hear'?"

Book Agent: "This book will teach you the way to economise."

The Victim 'That's no good to me. What I need is a book to teach me how to live without economising."

A young girl came to the late Father Healy, of Dublin, and confessed that she feared she had incurred the sin of vanity. "What makes you think that?" asked her father confessor. "Because every morning when I look into the mirror I think how beutiful I am." "Never fear, my girl," was the reassuring reply. "That isn't a sin; it's only a mistake."

It was Sunday evening. The minister had arrived at "thirdly," and the hour was nine. Suddenly he noticed a man sleeping—and in the front pew.

"Will you please wake up that brother next to you?" he said in a low tone to a man sitting beside the sleeper. The latter replied loudly: "Wake him up yourself. You put him to sleep."

What do you think of this girls?
The Empress Eugenie
Was surely a meanie
For covering only
¾ of the benie.—Ex.

Nurse (suspiciously): "What have you been doing, Ellen?"

Ellen: "Rover's eaten my dolly's slippers, so I've been punishing him."

"How?"

"I've been to his kennel and drinked his milk."

Rumple Hall

RUMPLE HALL, NOVEMBER. 26—Yesterday was Thanksgiving Day, and we spent a very happy day. We had so many things to be thankful for that we could not begin to name them all. One of the things that we were most thankful for was Friends. We had a good Thanksgiving dinner, and to make the day complete, Miss Doggett, our Christian Endeavor leader gave us a weiner roast down at the spring.

If you will look around the corner you will find Christmas.

Let me tell you a joke, one day last summer while Monteith Hendrix was at home at the table, he said "Pass the salt and pepper" and Margaret Hendrix said, "Say please pass the salt and pepperand I will pass it to you," and her little sister Rachel said, "We don't say please here, we have to hollow for it."

Edmonia Steele had a visit from her freinds, Elizabeth Lackey, and Lucile Alexander of Statesville.

Bobbie and Edna Marlow had a visit from their father and aunts. Nellie Johnson had a visit from her mother.

We are enjoying the nice apples that our friends in the mountains gave us, and we thank them very much.

It looks like it is going to snow, and we all hope it does.

We will have to close this time, hoping to write more next time.

COMMERCIALIZING THE AIR

Reports of fabulous salaries paid to actors, singers and other entertainers must generally be taken with the proverbial grain of salt, but a recent publication which seems authentic avers that Harry Lauder has received on several occasions $15,000.00 for a 15-minute broadcast, or $1,000 a minute.

This is undoubtedly the highest amount ever paid for a personal performance. Will Rogers is said to have received $12,500 for a like period.

Conceding the eceptional ability of these top-notchers, if they were really paid thees sums, it was too much. The same is true of many of the salaries paid to other radio artists, movie stars and the like.

These clever folks are good, all right, but they're not that good.

——P. O. H.——

Teacher: "What was the greatest character the Finns have contributed to the world?"

Willie: "Huckleberry!"

Infirmary

INFIRMARY, Nov. 26—It seems no time since we were writing news last month. How time does fly (Tempore fugit).

Mae Belle Knox and Elmer Little visited us Home-Coming Day and we sure were glad to see them and hope they will come again. Mae brought us four dozen nice glasses and we certainly did appreciate them because we needed them.

Bobby Starling, the baby of the home, stayed with us for some time and amuses us very much with his cute ways.

Christmas is just around the corner and everybody is looking forward with high hopes.

John Cole McCrimmon has had his appendix taken out and has just returned from the hospital. We are glad to have him back.

We have been taking in new children constantly and they all seem to make themselves quite at home with us. Jacueline and Flora Mae Newman are the last to come.

Two of our teachers, Misses Patterson and McDade are going to visit Flora McDonald, where they went to school, and visit their old teachers and some of the Barium girls. We know they will have a nice trip and that they will feel at home there.

Football season is over and we did not loose a single game. Basketball has started and the girls are especially glad. Two from our cottage are playing this year.

So long. —The "Cats"

—P. O. H.—

"Who's the swell guy you was just talkin' to?" asked Tony the bootblack.

"Aw, him and me"s worked together for years," answered Mickey, the newsboy. "He's the editor of one of me papers."

"Marie," observed Muriel, "has suffered much for her belief."

——P. O. H.——

Under the spreading chestnut tree
The village smithy squirms,
For he's been eating chestnuts
And they were full of worms.
